2 Prohibitions and Precautions

The following examination rules must be observed.

If the applicant violates any of the following rules and the university confirms the violation, all examination results will be invalidated, and the applicant’s admission will be revoked.

- No one except the applicant is allowed to be present in or enter the examination room.
- Failure to follow instructions from the university is prohibited.
- Moving to a different room or leaving the online examination room without permission from the university is prohibited.
- The use of devices, materials other than those designated by the university is not permitted.
- Recording of examination and disclosing them to others are not permitted (e.g., posting on websites, social media, etc.).
- The use of virtual backgrounds during the online examination is not allowed.
- During the examination, any means of communication with others who are not taking the examination are not allowed.

In Addition, Please Note the Following.

- Be sure to connect to Zoom at the time designated by the university and wait for permission to enter the room. In the case that applicants do not connect to Zoom by the designated time, it will be considered as absent, and the examination will not be re-scheduled.
- The university will not contact applicants individually on the examination day.
- The examination will be conducted in Japan standard time (UTC+9). Those who take the examination from outside Japan should be aware of the time difference.
- When connecting to Zoom from a public place, please make sure that there will be no noise or other people talking during the examination.
- Only one device is allowed to connect to Zoom. If the university permits, connection from more than one device at the same time will be permitted.
- If the internet connection is lost during the examination, or if the examination is deemed too difficult to continue due to the internet environment, the examination may be stopped. In this case, reexamination or other examination means can be used for evaluation. Failure of connections due to the internet environment will not affect the evaluation of the applicant.
- In addition to the examination ID, the applicant will be required to present identification documents (such as student ID card with a photograph, passport, driver’s license, etc). Furthermore, the university may check the room in which the applicant is taking the examination and the surrounding environment, and may give instructions to move to a different room.
- To ensure that examination is fair, the university will record the entire examination. Recorded data will be strictly managed by the university and will only be used for the purpose of admission selection.

Additionally, if the university instructs the applicants to take certain actions, please follow the instructions.
